1. Dresscode by Jörg Boner for Nils Holger Moormann These tall, modular wardrobes are fun pieces in which to hang your shirts and dresses. Made of untreated solid ash in red, olive green or grey on the outside and black on the inside.

2. Berlin 28 Collection by Baronet The premier Quebec manufacturer presents a line of furniture in solid oak with espresso, chocolate and graphite finishes. The collection boasts three different beds, as well as dressers with interchangeable storage units.

3. Multimed by Pescarollo This walk-in closet comes with folding doors in aluminum and laminated glass. Integrated aluminum uprights positioned between ceiling and floor support the doors and the accessories.

There are a variety of fittings available, such as shelving, hanging bars, pull-down hangers, drawers and pant racks.

4. Sidus by Santambrogio and Cavana for Res Sidus is constructed from uprights in ribbed aluminum, with shelves in white chipboard and a front finished in oak laminate or aluminum. Shown here embedded in a facing wall, the modular system, which comes in several dimensions, can be made to measure.

5. Lax Series by Mash Originally a New York company that now calls Santa Monica home, Mash introduces a new series, which includes this bed with integrated storage. Both the platform bed and the floating cupboard-headboard are made of Finnish birch. The headboard's aluminum doors slide open for access to the shelving.

6. Samsara by Cuno Frommherz for Cassina With its padded sides and fabric-covered headboard, Samsara – as the Sanskrit name suggests – is meant to evoke the feeling of peaceful rebirth. Its black-painted steel structure, surrounded by a curved, chrome-plated strip, works best with interior-spring mattresses. Matching two-drawer bedside tables come in white or grey lacquered wood.

7. Everynight by Didier Gomez for Ligne Roset Gomez introduces a tripartite sofa, encompassing two units for the seat and one for the back, that easily transforms into a bed. Constructed from a steel frame, plywood slats and Bultex foam, the bed comes with a feather-filled lumbar cushion.
